

E-commerce Marketing & Conversion Performance Dashboard

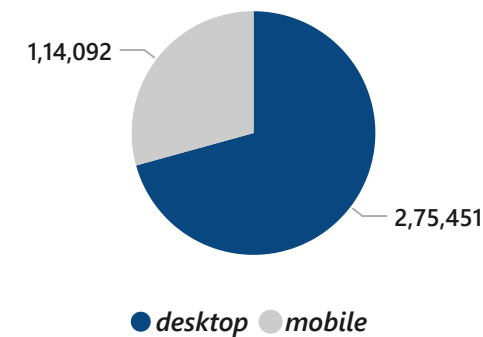

Revenue Trend Over Time

Revenue vs Order by Channel

Session by Device

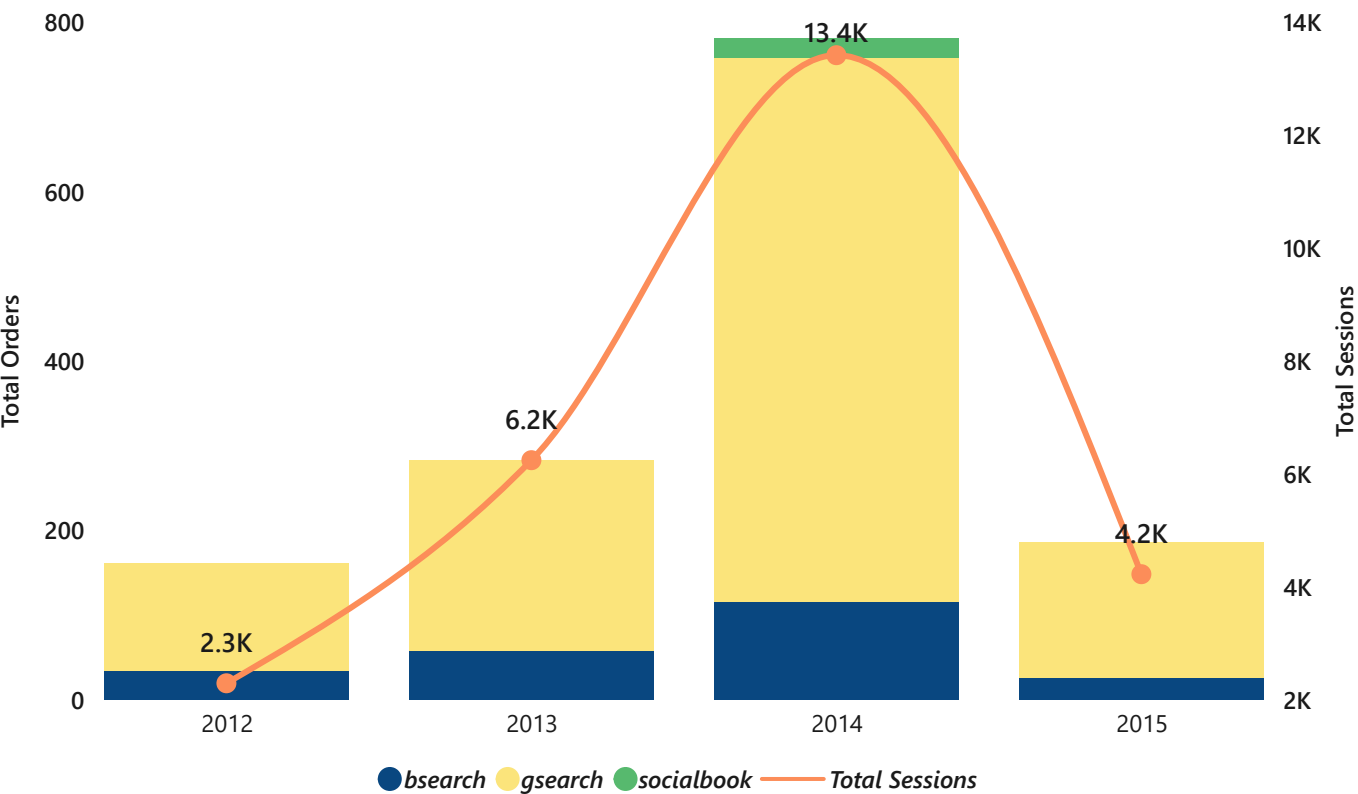

Revenue peaked in 2014, with “The Original Mr. Fuzzy” generating approximately 605K, followed by a decline in 2015.

Google Search (gsearch) is the top-performing channel, generating 1,154 orders and around 57K in revenue. The website recorded 389K sessions and 40K orders, indicating that business growth is driven by high traffic.

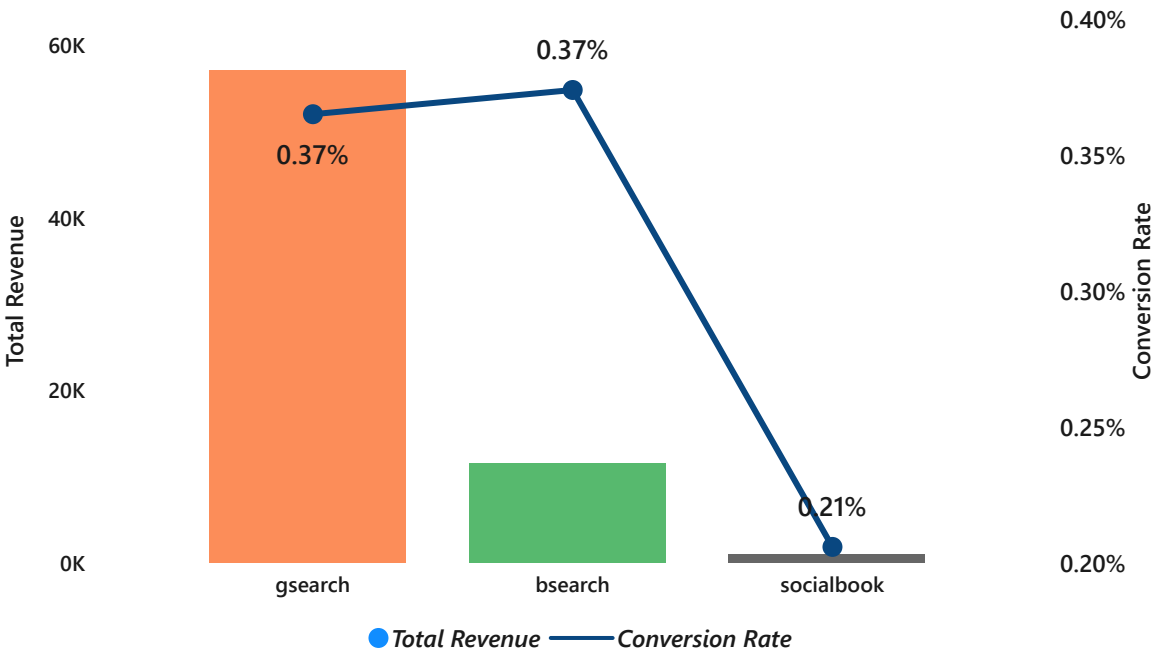

Desktop users contribute around 70% of total sessions 275K, compared to 114K from mobile users.

E-commerce Marketing & Conversion Performance Dashboard

Sessions & orders Trend by Channel

Revenue & Conversion Rate by Channel

Channel Performance Summary

Marketing Channel	Sessions	Orders	Revenue	Conversion Rate
bsearch	62,823	235	11,560	0.37%
gsearch	3,16,035	1,154	57,054	0.37%
socialbook	10,685	22	1,032	0.21%
Total	3,89,543	1,411	69,646	0.36%

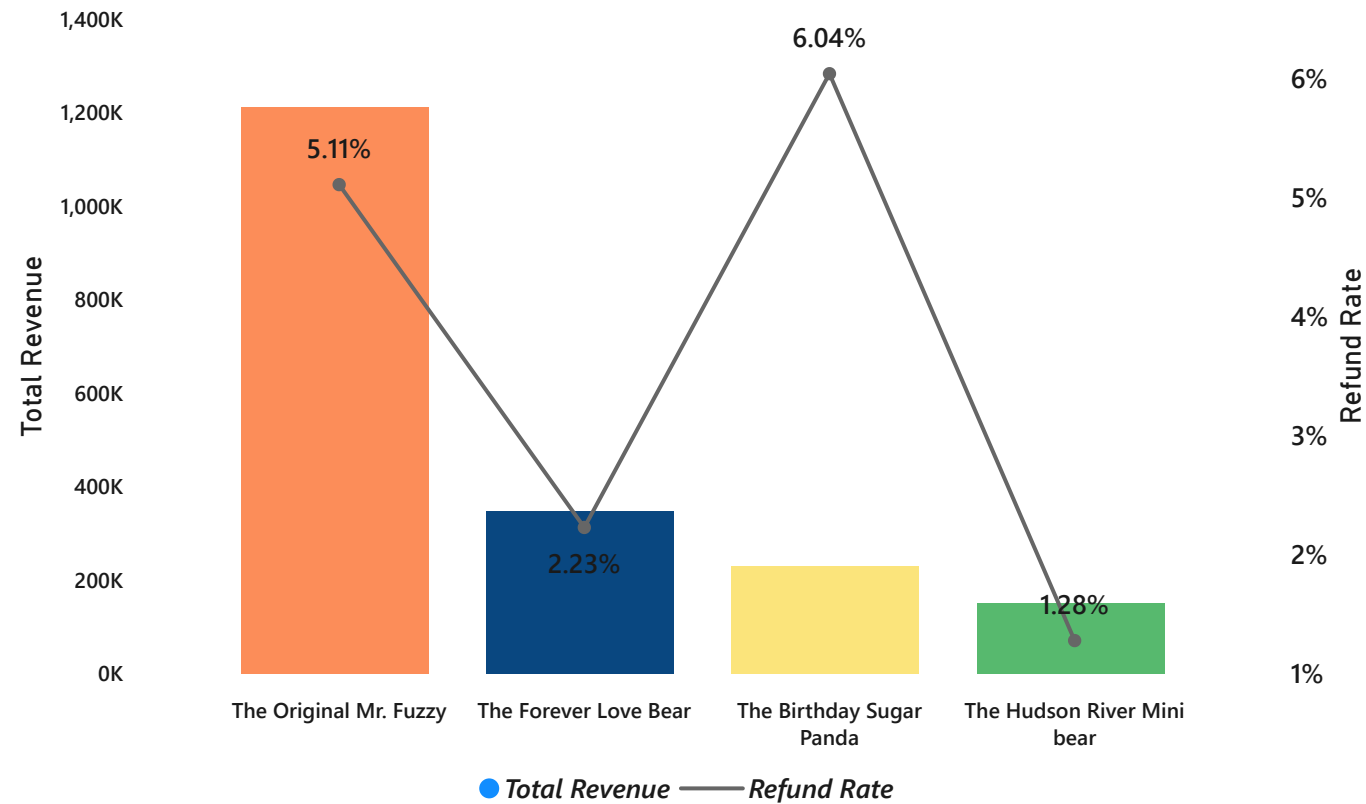

gsearch dominates with 316K sessions, 1,154 orders, and 57K revenue, due to high traffic volume and strong user intent.

bsearch shows moderate performance with similar conversion 0.37%, but lower reach limits its impact.

socialbook underperforms with 10K sessions, 22 orders, 1K revenue, 0.21% conversion due to low engagement and weaker traffic quality.

E-commerce Marketing & Conversion Performance Dashboard

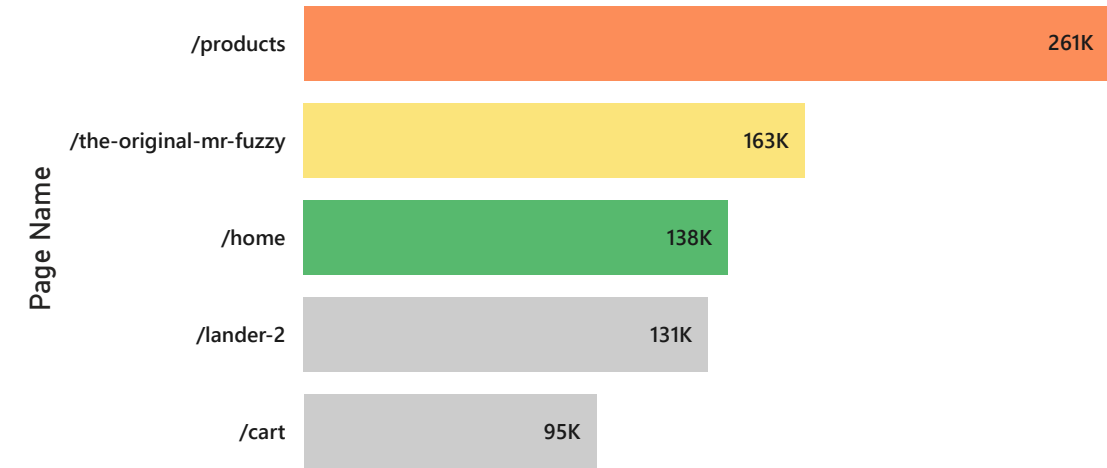

Revenue vs Return Rate by Product

User Journey Funnel

Top 5 Most Visited Pages

The Original Mr. Fuzzy generates the highest revenue ~1.2M but also has a high refund rate of 5.11%, while Birthday Sugar Panda has the highest refund of 6.04%, indicating there are product-related issues that's why they faced decline in sales in 2015.

32K purchases out of 390K sessions are made, 8.3% shows low conversion, meaning less than 1 in 10 users convert, with major drop-offs from product view to cart 63% and cart to purchase 66% due to UX, pricing, or checkout friction.

Although the /products page gets high traffic of 261K, only 95K reach cart, showing weak product page effectiveness and low purchase intent."

ⓘ Select or drag fields to populate this visual

